EAST NOBLE SCHOOL CORPORATION CHANGES TO ACCIDENTAL DAMAGE PROTECTION COVERAGE

Lenovo has changed their definition of what is covered under Accidental Damage Protection. According to Lenovo, “accidental damage protection only covers operation or structural failures resulting under normal operating conditions and handling due to liquid spills on the keyboard, unintentional drops or bumps of the product, an electrical surge that damages the product’s circuitry, or failure of the integrated LCD screen.

In the past, East Noble was able to turn in claims for basically anything we deemed to be accidental. Some common occurrences which used to be covered included screen breakage due to headphones or other items being shut in the computer, anything being dropped on the keyboard, stepping or sitting on the computer, etc. THESE DAMAGES WILL NO LONGER BE COVERED UNDER ACCIDENTAL DAMAGE PROTECTION per Lenovo.

Because of this, students need to exercise extreme caution in the handling of the laptop, as East Noble will no longer cover damages due to breakage caused in these manners, and students and families will be responsible for the cost of repair should this occur. Typical screen replacement costs are $175.
